Designation of Inheriting Beneficiary

Section 1.5 of Article XI of the Health Savings Custodial Account (HSA) contains an important discussion of your right to name primary and contingent beneficiary(ies). Your designation will revoke all prior HSA beneficiary designations with respect to the referenced HSA account. In the event of your death, you hereby direct that any balance in your HSA shall be paid to the following designated beneficiary or beneficiaries. If any primary or contingent beneficiary dies before you, then you wish to have the following result:

- 1. the interest of that deceased beneficiary, his or her issue and spouse, if any, shall terminate totally and the percentage share of any surviving beneficiary(ies) shall increase on a pro rata basis; or
- the interest of that deceased beneficiary shall be paid to his or her issue who are alive or who have living issue, such issue will take by right of representation the share the deceased beneficiary would have taken if living, and persons of the same class shall share equally. If the deceased beneficiary has no living issue, but does have a surviving spouse, such spouse will receive the deceased beneficiary's share unless the following box is checked ().

If you do not make the above designation, then you are deemed to have elected the "pro rata" selection.

If you designate your spouse as your sole primary beneficiary, and he or she predeceases you, then you intend the funds to be transferred to your contingent beneficiary(ies) who shall become the primary beneficiary(ies) and not pass per stirpes to the issue of your spouse.

You hereby designate the following individual(s) and/or entity(es) to be your beneficiary(ies). You must check Primary or Contingent for each beneficiary. If neither is checked, the designated beneficiary will be deemed to be a primary beneficiary.
